TRIP ON THE UPPER ST. JOHN'S RIVER-THE ELEGANT MANSIONS-A REMARKABLE LEMON-TREE - OCLAWAHA RIVER - ALLIGATORS' HAUNT -ST. AUGUSTINE-ANCIENT LAND-MARKS-THE OLD SPANISH FORT-THE INDIAN PRISONERS-THE STATE FAIR, ETC., ETC. Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., February 24, 1876. I have just returned from a delightful and interesting trip up the St. John's river, beyond Pilatka, taking in en route the Oclawaha river, the ancient town of St. Augustine, and various small settlements. The St. John's, above Pilatka, at some places is quite narrow and decidedly more romantic. On both sides of the stream one can discern elegant mansions and cottages, which are oc-They will remove to No. 319 Broad street on the cupied during winter by wealthy owners, the moneyed princes and princesses of New York, Massachusetts, and the great West. Here also are the principal orange- and lemon-groves. I am informed that the cultivation of the orange receives more attenthere have been over a million and a half of orange-trees set out in the various orange localities. While on the subject of oranges I must relate a statement given to me as fact concerning a remarkable lemon-tree. About a mile from Mellonville, on the upper St. John's, is a grove of some eight acres, owned by a gentleman from New York State, whose name escapes me, who expects to realize from his lemon investment this season something like $9,000. This is not so remarkable as the fact that in the grove is a lemon-tree of 105 feet in circumference at the top. Upwards of 20,000 lemons remaining on the same tree. It is creditably stated that the average lemontree will bear from 2,500 to 3,000 lemons. The golden fruit-bearing trees are considered quite as profitable; and, in fact, the

the finest that comes to market. These beautiful groves, together with the various species of trees—the Pride of India, the pine, the magnotia, all seemingly blended into one grand tableaux-transport the tourist into some imaginary spot. The long moss which falls so gracefully to the water's edge, and the balmy breezes, with the sweet-scented odor of the magnolia and vellow jessamine, give a most charming and poetic illusion to all lovers of the beautiful.

Only small steamers run through this stream. to a distance of about two hundred miles. The scenery is wild in the extreme, yet grand. The Silver Spring is the most notable stopping-place on the Oclawaha. The water of the spring is as clear as crystal. A piece of silver dropped to the bottom, some thirty to forty feet, can be plainly seen. ST. AUGUSTINE.

The citizens complain that travel is not by half so great now as at the same time last winter. OF OTDES INTHE STATE PAIR. Jacksonville was unusually lively this week, being the opening of the second annual State Fair. The weather was faultless, and a great many more visitors were on the ground than had been expected. The greatest feature of the exhibition was the grand display of fruits and vegetables of all sorts. The flower exhibit was also something beautiful to behold at this season of the year for persons from more northern latitudes. The ladies' handiwork department was well supplied. There was splendid collection of fine art. The most interesting exhibit to visitors from northern States was the farniture, wagons, fine carriages, etc., manufactured in the State of Florida-woods. The stock was only medium, though the horses of speed would compare favorably with those usually brought to other State fairs. The half-mile track is sandy and heavy, and notwitstanding this fact the time made was within three minutes to a mile for trotting and inside of two for running.

A HUGE ALLIGATOR on exhibition on the grounds measured nearly ten feet. Judging from the length of this saurian, it is supposed that he is not less than one hundred years old. In order to ascertain his weight he was roped, but with one flirt of his tail he sprawled no less than a dozen of bystanders and almost knocked the life out of his keepers. There were also a large number of

As one of the people, allow me to ask, Whence all this fault-finding? Why the huge attempt to upset the management which for years has compared favorably with that of any other city? Why this effort to make obnoxious men who have been true not only as policemen, but from the crushing out of Chaboon to the present day have well performed their duty through the Conservative party to this city and State? Maybe this is the rub. They have something to do sometimes with politics. But what would have been the consequence had William Braxton, charged with assaulting they been divided in their political opinions, which would have been the case if the system of management in the past had been what is now so much contended for? Now, what is the proposed plan and what will be its results by turning off one third of the force every year and appointing new men in their places?
